

Out of State Involvement

Commonly, people from out of state will want to get involved, however they often feel there is little they can do. This is not the case; people from out of state can help substantially. For instance, social networking can be done anywhere, but is frequently overlooked. The following is a list of how out-of-state supporters can make a difference:

- Talk to family and friends, LGBT and straight, who live in California. Statistics show that a majority of voters are influenced by their friends & family.
- Social Networking – examples include inviting friends to Yes' Facebook and Myspace groups, sending out wall posts, emailing friends, and blogging in support of Yes!
- Join Yes' mailing list. Don't forget to inform your friends, even if they don't live in California, they can still get involved.
- Give valuable feedback in our dynamic online forum – interact with others in the community and brainstorm for new ideas.
- Contribute – running a major initiative campaign costs millions of dollars. No contribution is too small, it all adds up and every bit can make a difference.
